

VILLA LEADERS PLAN TO FORCE PEACE ON HIM

Rebel Chief Still Rejects All Proposals to Bow to Will of Carranza.

GENERAL'S HINT AT REVOLT

Latin-American Governments' Formal Recognition Act Awaited By Lansing.

Advices received here today from northern Mexico declare that many of Villa's generals, convinced that his cause is lost, are strongly urging him to abandon his revolution against the Carranza government. Many of these generals, it is stated, are determined to lay down their arms whether Villa gives up his campaign or not.

At present, it is stated, Villa is disposed to reject all such proposals with scorn, and is trying desperately to rally his forces for a determined stand.

General Carranza, according to official advices to the State Department, has left Vera Cruz for Tampico on the Mexican gunboat Bravo. He plans a triumphal tour throughout the territory he now controls, and, en route, will confer with his generals over plans for finally crushing Villa and Zapata. He plans to end his tour at Mexico City, where he will formally take over the affairs of the capital.

Zapata Runs R. R. Shops.

Secretary Lansing stated today that he was still without information from the Latin-American diplomats who participated in the Pan-American conferences as to whether their respective governments had approved the decision of the conference to recognize Carranza. Until this information is obtained actual recognition by the United States will be withheld.

The State Department received word yesterday of the burning of the railroad shops at Orizaba, midway between Vera Cruz and Mexico City, by Zapistas.

Publication of the guarantees given by General Carranza prior to the decision of the conference to propose to recognize him, it is hoped by officials of this Government, go far toward removing the opposition remaining in this country against the plan.

Gives Religious Liberty.

This applies particularly to the guarantees of religious liberty. Much of the opposition in this country against the first chief has emanated from the Catholic church. Cardinal Gibbons has been repeatedly quoted as opposing the recognition of Carranza, and the same sentiment has been expressed by officials of the church. It is hoped that Carranza's promise to give full religious liberty will soften the opposition.

Official heads have fled no endeavoring concerning Americans and other foreigners in Northern Mexico. At the same time, dispatches from the border state that American consuls in Villa territory are doing everything possible to protect American citizens.

Secretary of State Lansing was unable to say today whether there would be another formal conference of the Pan-American diplomats before formal recognition of Carranza is extended. He indicated, however, that such a meeting might be held.

It is expected that as soon as this recognition is extended by the United States and the Latin-American countries, the leading powers of Europe will follow the example and that within a short while a full diplomatic corps will be in Mexico City accredited to the Carranza government.

Carranza has captured Tolosa, a railroad junction thirty miles from Mexico City, and his troops are engaged with Carranzistas near the capitol.

PRESIDENT TO SET MEMORIAL STONE

Will Use Trowel Tomorrow At Arlington Amphitheater Ceremonies.

President Wilson will lay the cornerstone of the Arlington Memorial Amphitheater tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock from a platform constructed directly east of the Maine mast.

After the ceremony, two memorial trees will be planted in front of the amphitheater by a delegation from women's patriotic organizations. The tree planting exercises will be conducted by the large number of colored boys, Spanish War Veterans and regular army soldiers stand guard.

The invocation will be pronounced by Bishop Earl Cranston, one of the civil war veterans whose valor and memory the amphitheater will commemorate. Secretary of the Navy Daniels will speak as a representative of the Arlington Memorial Commission.

A detachment from Fort Myer will bear pennants during the exercises. Judge Edward G. Kimball, who worked for twelve years to have the construction of the amphitheater authorized by Congress, finally succeeding on March 5, 1913, will explain the history of the memorial.

Following music by the Fifth Cavalry Band, Capt. Charles W. Newton, past commander-in-chief of the United States Cavalry, will deliver an address. Benediction will be pronounced by the Rev. John B. Fraiser, a chaplain in the United States navy.

Admission cards issued in October 1, when the ceremony was to have been held, will be honored, announces Col. W. W. Hart.

AERO CORPS PLANNED FOR NATIONAL GUARD

Officials of the Aero Club of America have been in communication with officers of the Naval Militia of the District regarding a movement to form aviation sections of State national guards all over the country. The Aero Club is raising a fund and already has seven aeroplanes to be used by aviation corps of the National Guard of States which enter the movement.

No immediate action is to be taken by the District officials in this campaign because the District National Guard already has, as a part of its naval militia, an aeroplane corps, made up of men and two officers, who are working with an aeroplane owned by Dean Roger Van Kirk and donated to the militia for this purpose.

In forming this hydroaeroplane section, the Aero Club is in a better situation than many States which would like to have an aeroplane corps but cannot obtain aircraft for practice. Already arrangements have been made by the Aero Club of America to cooperate with New York, Massachusetts, Wisconsin, California, Texas, and Arizona in aeroplane work.

The aeronautic corps of the naval militia here is commanded by Lieut. H. L. Crawford and Lieut. W. R. Hoefler.

This applies particularly to the guarantees of religious liberty. Much of the opposition in this country against the first chief has emanated from the Catholic church. Cardinal Gibbons has been repeatedly quoted as opposing the recognition of Carranza, and the same sentiment has been expressed by officials of the church.
